CHARITABLE PROGRAMS

As a Canadian charity, your success is our bottom line.

We are a registered charity with an 85 year history.

As a registered charity and a non-profit dedicated to the advancement of education, Columbia College can approach higher education in completely unique ways. The rapidly changing world, including changes in higher education, offer an opportunity for the College to pilot new and alternative approaches to preparing students to pursue a higher education, and make a positive impact on the world as global citizens.

Equity in Education builds strong communities. Columbia College has been in our community since 1936 building unique supports and approaches to provide access to diverse populations into the BC economy and workforce of the future.

In 2018 the College community made a decision to leverage and expand activities aligned with the College's charitable status. In 2021 we launched the Institute for Equity and Advancement in Education, making it possible to reinvest resources, donations, and proceeds from our partnerships into helping students from all backgrounds and beginnings to succeed.

Our students have successfully transferred to many universities in Canada, including:

WHAT'S NEXT?

Columbia College High School excels in STEM (Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math) programs to meet the demands of our rapidly changing world.

Students pursuing STEM fields have access to university-level labs and equipment, exposing them to higher learning at a younger age.

CCS students are not only better prepared to pursue university programs and adapt to the Canadian post-secondary system, but can apply directly to universities or complete an Associate of Science at Columbia College.

UNIVERSITY TRANSFER

British Columbia offers the smoothest college-to-university transfer system in Canada, which is overseen by the British Columbia Council on Admission and Transfer.

In the BC transfer system, students can take up to 60 credits at first and second year level to transfer to Canadian universities. Over the years, Columbia College has been one of the top providers of international students to the University of British Columbia and Simon Fraser University.

Advantages include small class sizes, meaning personal attention to each student and a closer relationship with instructors and classmates, and affordable tuition as prices per course are lower than in university.
